

BUSINESS RISK UPDATE

Welcome to the latest edition of 'Business Risk Update', the quarterly newsletter from KCS Group Europe specifically for our clients and partners to provide you with a snapshot of latest news and articles from the business.

Cyber-crime, how can we support you?

Cyber-crime now outstrips traditional crime in practically every area. Theft from banks, scams against naïve individuals, industrial espionage: each is typically far easier to achieve from behind a computer than it is to perform in-person. Why go to the risk of holding up a High Street bank for one million dollars, when you can steal one dollar from a million bank accounts online? Why send an 'inside man' to a conglomerate competitor when you can intercept blueprints being transferred back and forth via email?

The goalposts are changing, and companies must adapt as well, to avoid falling into the traps posed by what is a constantly evolving and highly dangerous world.

The KCS Group Europe cyber audit is predicated upon two tenets about IT security, which it is hoped will be upheld during the course of the Investigation.

IT security should be a top priority of any organisation and is the responsibility of everyone right across the business. Directors, managers, staff, and all departments need to understand and impress the importance to in-house IT departments.

Traditional measures such as perimeter security and anti-virus are not enough to adequately protect against the range of threats in today's marketplace.

The latest in our series of brochures, focuses on the services we can offer our customers and their clients. Click the image above to download our new Cyber Brochure ...

KCS Group Europe & Global Checks CIS

KCS Group Europe (KCS) and Global Checks CIS (Global Checks) are pleased to announce a closer working relationship between the two firms.

Global Checks, a most experienced investigative and consulting firm in Germany, has joined forces with KCS to significantly expand the capabilities, offerings and footprints of both firms not only in Germany itself but the wider European market.

This development will see both firms better-placed to offer a wide range of investigative and intelligence services to German and European clients, built upon the foundations of human sources and expert analysis that are the cornerstone of the practice today.

Global Checks has particular experience, not only in the German market, but in performing asset traces and discreet enquiries of all natures, and is ideally placed to complement, benefit from and enhance KCS's capabilities – and add better and greater value to Clients.

Read More

Chris Crowther

Chris Crowther has recently joined the KCS team as a member of the Group's Advisory Board

Chris brings with him over 25 years' experience in the information assurance and security domain in his role as advisor to the KCS Group Europe team, Chris will specifically support our Cyber Team to raise awareness of current trends and appropriate steps that can be taken, in the areas of cyber security and cyber risk prevention and mitigation.

Read More

In case you missed it ...

[\[click the image to read the full story\]](#)

Simulation theory: don't believe your eyes?

Hoods make not monks...

Intelligence failure and the lessons for the corporate sector

Intelligence failure: the inside perspective

With Season's Greetings and Best Wishes for the New Year from everyone at KCS Group Europe. We look forward to working with you in 2019

To subscribe to regular updates from KCS Group Europe, please click here, if you no longer wish to receive business updates from us, please click here to unsubscribe